

Outwardly-Focused ?'s

Describe an outwardly-focused church. What church most closely resembles what you've described?

If your church closed its doors for good, in what specific ways do you believe those outside your church would actually miss you?

After studying your church budget and calendar from this past year, what percentage of your time and money was spent on those inside the church versus those outside the church?

Over the past year, what percentage of your church would you say engaged in two or more God conversations with others outside the church? What percentage would you say had none? If you wanted to change this reality in the coming year, what do you think it would take to increase the quantity and the quality of your conversations with not-yet Christians?

Over the past two years of your church's ministry, how many people outside the faith are now inside your church due to outreach?

On a scale from 1 to 10, 1 representing an extremely inwardly-focused church and 10 representing an extremely outwardly-focused church, what number would you pick to characterize your church, and why?

What next steps do you believe God would have your church take to become more outwardly-focused?
